NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

F. A. A. COWLEY, Secy, in the Govt. of Bengat:

OALCUTTA, the 26th September 1919.

WIRELESS METEOROLOGICAL INFORMATION TO AND FROM SHIPS AT SEA.

General Remarks.

No. 295 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1353 of 1919), are

Former Notice.—No. 880 of 1919 hereby cancelled.

I. It is earnestly hoped that all concerned will assist in making the wireless meteorological service a success. Negotiations are now in hand to extend and unify the system of collecting weather data by wireless from ships at sea all over the world, and at the same time to organise the free transmission of weather bulletins from a sufficient number of wireless stations to admit of ships being constantly supplied with reliable weather reports and forecasts wherever they may be.

stations to admit of ships being constantly supplied with relation weather reports and forecasts wherever they may be.

2. It should be borne in mind that the needs of ships at sea in regard to information regarding the weather will march hand in hand with the requirements of aircraft. The importance of this service will therefore be constantly increasing and its success or failure will largely depend upon the co-operation of ships at sea in providing the data without which accurate forecasting is impossible. The matter does not depend solely upon the efforts of the ships selected to furnish the data. The essence of success lies in rapidity in passing such data by wireless from the ship to the coast station, and thence to the central meteorological office. It follows, therefore, that all ships not taking an active part in supplying data should use the greatest care not to interfere with the transmission of the wireless messages to the shore.

3. The following particulars refer to the scheme now being undertaken by the British Meteorological Office. This Notice will, however, be subject to revision from time to time, and endeavours will be made to include in each revision all information available to date of the weather bulletins issued by the wireless stations of the world. Earnest endeavours are being made to obtain international agreement as to the form of these weather bulleting and to the methods and times of transmissions. It is hoped that the messages will eventually all be made in an international code at fixed times, so arranged that a ship with only one wireless operator will be able to read them. A similar scheme for time signals is being evolved.

Ocilection of Weather Data from Ships.

4. Certain ships are being asked to supply data regularly three times a day whonever they are within a certain distance of any one of some six or eight observation points" in the North Eastern Atlantic.

5. In addition to the regular observations, which are taken at 0100, 0700 and 1300 Greenwich time and sent as soon as possible to Malin head (GMH) or Valentia (GCK) coast stations, these ships may, on request from either of these coast stations, send special data messages at other times.

6. The procedure for a ship which intends to send a data message will be as follows:—As soon as it has been decided to make the data message (i.e., normally at about 0100, 0700 or 1300), the ship makes to "all ships" (OQ) the word "weather." followed by a number which indicates the point" (see paragraph 4 above), near which she is at the time.

Application is being made to Borne to allot an international 3-letter abbreviation to mean : "Am about to make weather data from observation point number....."

7. This warning message will not be answered by any ship or station it is merely designed-

(a) To inform all ships within range that a report is about to be made and that they should therefore avoid interfering.

- (b) To inform all other ships supplying weather data, which may be in the vicinity of the same observation point, that, one ship having decided to make a report, it is unnecessary for them to make one also.
- 8. About 5 or 10 minutes after the ship has made the warning as above, she may be expected to transmit the data message itself. The normal or regular "data message" consists of 4 groups of 5 figures each; the special data message is of 2 groups of 5 figures each. All data messages bear the one word "weather" as the address, and conclude with a "time of origin" of 4 figures. The message will be sent to Malin head (GMH) or Valentia (GCK), according to the position of the "observation point."

† Application is being made to Berne to allot international 3-letter abbreviations to mean: "Following are normal (or special) weather data."

9. It should be noted that several of the observation points are so far out at sea that the coast stations, although provided with extra sensitive receiving gear, will be unable to read the messages unless all ships help by keeping quiet. In particular, ships working near Malin head or Valentia should be on the watch for the coast station making "Go on" (K) or "Repeat" (UI) to a ship whose transmission they themselves cannot hear. It is hoped that ships will so co-operate in this matter that it will be unnecessary to arrange international, "silent periods" to enable these long-range data messages to be read by the coast stations.

10. The coast stations on receiving these data messages, will possibly have to forward them to London by wireless. They would use continuous wave for this purpose, and would therefore not be heard by ships not fitted. with special receivers. Ships should therefore be prepared to find that Valentia or Malin bead could not attend to calls for a few minutes after receipt of one of these data messages.

11. The "special" data messages referred to in paragraph 5 above are only made when the Meteorological Office finds its information pointing to the existence of peculiar conditions in a certain area. In such cases the office directs Valentia or Malin head to ask for reports. The shore station then sends, to "any British ship supplying weather data" ‡ the word "weather "§ followed, if necessary, by the number of the observation point from which a special data message is desired. This word would not be answered by ships and research which a special data message is desired. by ships; but ships addressed, which were In the vicinity of any (or of the specified) observation point, would verify their position, make the warning signal to "All ships," take observations and pass in the special data message as above described for the regular message.

1 The call letters BVD are being given this signification.

§ Application is being made to Berne to allot an international 3-letter abbreviation to mean: "Please give special weather data (from observation point number......)"

ISSUE OF WEATHER BULLETINS TO SHIPS.

12. A wireless weath r bulletin may contain both or either of the following :-

(a) A weather report, which is an official statement of existing weather conditions; and/or

(b) A weather forecast, which is an official opinion of probable future weather conditions.

13. The accompanying schedule of wireless weather bulletins is intended to provide, in a form suitable to give all information required by the wireless operator, a complete and up-to-date list of all weather brackins transmitted at fixed times by wireless stations throughout the world. The same information will be found in detail in the Sailing Directions and in the international list of radio-telegraph stations (the Berne List).

rnational list of radio-telegraph stations (for the schedule are expressed 14. The times given in the third column of the schedule are expressed 14. The times given in the third column of the schedule are expressed 14. in the 4-figure notation employed for signalling during the war. The term "G. M. T. here means the civil mean time of the meridian of Greenwich, with the day commencing at midnight and the hours reckoned from 00 to 23.

15. Operators are reminded that Article 45 of the International Service Regulations imposes the general obligation of not interfering with reception of weather bulletins by other ships. 16. Certain other stations not shown in the schedule supply weather bulletins on demand, generally at reduced charges. Particulars will be found in the Berne List.

The 26th September 1919.

WIRELESS METEOROLOGICAL INFORMATION TO AND FROM SHIPS AT SEA.

General Remarks.

No. 295 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1893 of 1919), are republished:—

Former Notice.-No. 880 of 1919 hereby cancelled.

- 1. It is earnestly hoped that all concerned will assist in making the wireless meteorological service a success. Negotiations are now in hand to extend and unify the system of collecting weather data by wireless from ships at sea all over the world, and at the same time to organise the free transmission of weather bulletins from a sufficient number of wireless stations to admit of ships being constantly supplied with reliable weather reports and forecasts wherever they may be.
- 2. It should be borne in mind that the needs of ships at sea in regard to information regarding the weather will march hand in hand with the requirements of aircraft. The importance of this service will therefore be constantly increasing and its success or failure will largely depend upon the co-operation of ships at sea in providing the data without which accurate forecasting is impossible. The matter does not depend solely upon the efforts of the ships selected to furnish the data. The essence of success lies in rapidity in passing such data by wireless from the ship to the coast station, and thence to the central meteorological office. It follows, therefore that all ships not taking an active part in supplying data should use the greatest care not to interfere with the transmission of the wireless messages to the shore.
- 3. The following particulars refer to the scheme now being undertaken by the British Meteorological Office. This Notice will, however, be subject to revision from time to time, and endeavours will be made to include in each revision all information available to date of the weather bulletins issued by the wireless stations of the world. Earnest endeavours are being made to obtain international agreement, as to the form of these weather bulletins and to the methods and times of transmissions. It is hoped that the messages will eventually all be made in an international code at fixed times, so arranged that a ship with only one wireless operator will be able to read them. A similar scheme for time signals is being evolved.

Collection of Weather Data from Ships.

4. Certain ships are being asked to supply data regularly three times a day whenever they are within a certain distance of any one of some six or eight" observation points" in the North Eastern Atlantic.

5. In addition to the regular observations, which are taken at 0100. 0700 and 1300 Greenwich time and sent as soon as possible to Malin head (GMH) or Valentia (GCK) coast stations, these ships may, on request from either of these coast stations, send special data messages at other times.

6. The procedure for a ship which intends to send a data message will be as follows:—As soon as it has been decided to make the data message (i.e., normally at about 0100, 0700 or 1300), the ship makes to "all ships" (CQ) the word "weather," followed by a number which indicates the "observation point" (see paragraph 4 above), near which she is at the time.

Application is being made to Borne to allot an international Scienter abbreviation to mean: "Am about to make weather data from observation point number......"

- 7. This warning message will not be answered by any ship or station. it is merely designed—
  - (a, To inform all ships within range that a report is about to be made and that they should therefore avoid interfering.

- (b) To inform all other ships supplying weather data, which may be in the vicinity of the same observation point, that, one ship having decided to make a report, it is unnecessary for them to make one also.
- 8. About 5 or 10 minutes after the ship has made the warning as above, she may be expected to transmit the data message itself. The normal or regular "data message" consists of 4 groups of 5 figures each; the special data message is of 2 groups of 5 figures each. All data messages hear the one data message is of 2 groups of 5 figures each. All data messages hear the one word "weather" as the address, and conclude with a "time of origin" of 4 word "weather" as the address, and conclude with a "time of origin" of 4 figure of The message will be sent to Malin head (GMH) or Valentia. (GOK), according to the position of the "observation point."
- † Application is being made to Berne to allot international 3-letter abbreviations to mean: "Following are normal (or special) weather data."
- 9. It should be noted that several of the observation points are so far out at sea that the coast stations, although provided with extra sensitive receiving gear, will be unable to read the messages unless all ships help by keeping quiet. In particular, ships working near Malin head or Valentia should be on the watch for the coast station making "Go on" (K) or "Repeat" (UD) to a ship whose transmission they themselves cannot hear. It is hoped that ships will so co-operate in this matter that it will be unnecessary to arrange international "silent periods" to enable these long-range data messages to be read by the coast stations.

10. The coast stations, on receiving these data messages, will possibly have to forward them to London by wireless. They would use continuous wave for this purpose, and would therefore not be heard by ships not fitted with special receivers. Ships should therefore be prepared to find that Valentia or Malin head could not attend to calls for a few minutes after receipt of one of these data messages.

- only made when the Meteorological Office finds its information pointing to the existence of peculiar conditions in a certain area. In such cases the office directs Vallatia or Malin head to ask for reports. The shore station then sends, to "any British ship supplying weather data" ‡ the word "weather" followed, if necessary, by the number of the observation point from which a special data message is desired. This word would not be answered by ships; but ships addressed, which were in the vicinity of any (or of the specified) observation point, would verify their position, make the warning signal to "All ships," take observations and pass in the special data message as above described for the regular message.
  - I The call letters BVD are being given this aignification.
- § Application is being made to Borne to allut an international 3-letter abbreviation to mean: "Please give special weather data (from observation point number......)"

ISSUE OF WEATHER BULLETINS TO SHIPS.

- 12. A wireless weather bulletin may contain both or either of the following:-
  - (a) A weather report, which is an official statement of existing weather conditions; and/or.
  - (b) A weather forecast, which is an official opinion of probable future weather conditions.
- 13. The accompanying schedule of wireless weather bulletins is intended to provide, in a form suitable to give all information required by the wireless operator, a complete and up-to-date list of all weather bulletins transmitted at fixed times by wireless stations throughout the world. The same information will be found in detail in the Sailing Directions and in the international list of radio-telegraph stations (the Berne List).
- 14. The times given in the third column of the schedule are expressed in the 4-figure notation employed for signalling during the war. The term "G. M. T." here means the civil mean time of the meridian of Greenwich, with the day commencing at midnight and the hours reckoned from 00 to 23.
- 15. Operators are reminded that Article 45 of the International Service Regulations imposes the general obligation of not interfering with reception of weather bulletins by other ships.

16. Certain other stations not shown in the schedule supply weather bulletins on demand, generally at reduced charges. Particulars will be found in the Berne List.

WIRELESS METEOROLOGICAL INFORMATION TO AND FROM SHIPS AT SEA.

General Remarks.

No. 295 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1393 of 1919), are probabled.—

Former Nation.-No. 880 of 1919 hereby cancelled.

- 1. It is earnestly hoped that all concerned will assist in making the wireless meteorological service a success. Negotiations are now in hand to extend and unify the system of collecting weather data by wireless from ships at sea all over the world, and at the same time to organise the free transmission of weather bulletins from a sufficient number of wireless stations to admit of ships being constantly supplied with reliable weather reports and forecasts wherever they may be.
- 2. It should be borne in mind that the needs of ships at sea in regard to information regarding the weather will march hand in hand with the requirements of aircraft. The importance of this service will therefore be constantly increasing and its success or faiture will largely depend upon the co-operation of ships at sea in providing the data without which accurate forecasting is impossible. The matter does not depend solely upon the efforts of the ships selected to furnish the data. The essence of success lies in rapidity in passing such data by wireless from the ship to the coast station, and thence to the central meteorological office. It follows, therefore that all ships not taking an active part in supplying data should use the greatest dre not to interfere with the transmission of the wireless messages to the shore.
- 3. The following particulars refer to the scheme now being undertaken by the British Meteorological Office. This Notice will, however, he subject to revision from time to time, and endeavours will be made to include in each revision all information available to date of the weather bulletins issued by the wireless stations of the world. Earnest endeavours are being made to obtain international agreement as to the form of these weather bulletins and to the methods and times of transmissions. It is hoped that the messages will eventually all be made in an international code at fixed times, so arranged that a ship with only one wireless operator will be able to read them. A similar scheme for time signals is being evolved.

Collection of Weather Data from Ships.

4. Certain ships are being asked to supply data regularly three times a day whenever they are within a certain distance of any one of some six or eight "observation points" in the North Eastern Atlantic.

5. In addition to the regular observations, which are taken at 0100, 0700 and 1300 Greenwich time and sent as soon as possible to Malin head (GMH) or Valentia (GCK) coast stations, these ships may, on request from either of these coast stations, send special data messages at other times.

- 6. The procedure for a ship which intends to send a data message will be as follows:—As soon as it has been decided to make the data message (i.e., normally at about 0100, 0700 or 1300), the ship makes to "all ships" (CQ) the word "weather," followed by a number which indicates the "observation point" (see paragraph 4 above), near which she is at the time.
- * Application is being made to Borne to allot an international S-letter abbreviation to mean: "Am about to make weather data from observation point number............."
- 7. This warning message will not be answered by any ship or station-
  - (a, To inform all ships within range that a report is about to be made . and that they should therefore avoid interfering.

- (b) To inform all other ships supplying weather data, which may be in the vicinity of the same observation point, that, one ship having decided to make a report, it is unnecessary for them to make one also.
- 8. About 5 or 10 minutes after the ship has made the warning as above, she may be expected to transmit the data message itself. The normal or regular "data message" consists of 4 groups of 5 figures each; the special data message is of 2 groups of 5 figures each. All data messages bear the one word "weather" as the address, and conclude with a "time of origin" of 4 figures. The message will be sent to Malin head (GMH) or Valentia (GCK), according to the position of the "observation point."
- † Application is being made to Herne to aliot international 3-letter abbreviations to mean: "Following are normal (or special) weather data."
- 9. It should be noted that several of the observation points are so far out at sea that the coast stations, although provided with extra sensitive receiving gear, will be unable to read the messages unless all ships help by keeping quiet. In particular, ships working near Mafin head or Vaientia should be on the watch for the coast station making "Go on" (K) or "Repeat" (UD) to a ship whose transmission they themselves cannot hear. It is hoped that ships will so co-operate in this matter that it will be unnecessary to arrange international "silent periods" to enable these long-range data messages to be read by the coast stations.

10. The coast stations, on receiving these data messages, will possibly have to forward them to London by wireless. They would use continuous wave for this purpose, and would therefore not be heard by ships not fitted with special receivers. Ships should therefore be prepared to find that Valentia or Malin head could not attend to calls for a few minutes after receipt of one of these data messages.

only made when the Meteorological Office finds its information pointing to the existence of peculiar conditions in a certain area. In such cases the office directs Valentia or Maiin head to ask for reports. The shore station then sends, to "any British ship supplying weather data" the word "weather" followed, if necessary, by the number of the observation point from which a special data message is desired. This word would not be answered by ships; but ships addressed, which were in the vicinity of any (or of the specified) observation point, would verify their position, make the warning signal to "All ships," take observations and pass in the special data message as above described for the regular message.

I The call letters BVD are being given this signification.

§ Application is being made to Borne to allot an international 3-letter abbreviation to mean; "Please give special weather data (from observation point number......)"

ISSUE OF WEATHER BULLETINS TO SHIPS.

12. A wireless weather bulletin may contain both or either of the following:

(a) A weather report, which is an official statement of existing weather conditions; and/or

- (b) A weather forecast, which is an official opinion of probable future weather conditions.
- 13. The accompanying schedule of wireless weather bulletins is intended to provide, in a form suitable to give all information required by the wireless operator, a complete and up-to-date list of all weather bulletins transmitted at fixed times by wireless stations throughout the world. The same information will be found in detail in the Sailing Directions and in the international list of radio-telegraph stations (the Berne List).
- 14. The times given in the third column of the schedule are expressed in the 4-figure notation employed for signalling during the war. The term "G. M. T." here means the civil mean time of the meridian of Greenwich, with the day commencing at midnight and the hours reckoned from 00 to 23.
- 15. Operators are reminded that Article 45 of the International Service Regulations imposes the general obligation of not interfering with reception of weather building by other ships.

16. Certain other stations not shown in the schedule supply weather bulletins on demand, generally at reduced charges. Particulars will be found in the Berne List.

Spring Tides—The highest Spring Tide occurs about 14 days after full and new moon. The tides appear to be regular and take 3 hours to rise and 6 hours to fall, obtaining their height and commenoing to fall almost immediately. The A.M. tide is usually the Neap Tides.—At Neaps the tides are irregular and a range of only 2 feet 8 inches has been observed: On this occasion the tide never fell below 5 feet 9 inches on the tide pole and only rose to 8 feet 5 inches, this height being reached about 2 hours before the time for H. W. The tides seldom remain stationary at H. W. (with the above exception) but commence to fall almost immediately, but at L. W. they often remain stationary for 2 hours before commencing to rise.

The following depths may be expected on the Bar at High and Low water :-

No. 307 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the Director of the Royal Indian Marine. Bombay, in Notice to Mariners (No. 68M. of 1919), are republished:—

Note—The high water line of Msimbati and Islands of Mana Hawanja and Mongo appear to be incorrectly charted.

(2) Directions for Entering Harbour .-

When entering the harbour, a line of bearing of Ras Msimbati Beacon 198° (5.24° W. Mag.), although the correct one to enter and leave by, seems to lead too close to shoals off Ras Rayura or at least to discoloured water.

Ruvura or at least to discoloured water.

It is thought therefore that Ras Msimbati may have grown out and it would seem advisable for ships entering or leaving this harbour to do so at L. W., or when the Sun is, high in altitude. The shoals then are easily visible and ships can keep to the deep blue water.

GLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Not ice.—No. 1 of 1919 (This office No. 53 of 1919) hereby cancelled.

- (1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (b), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.
- (2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.
- or signals given them by the Examination vessel or signal

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

- (4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.
- (5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the port. Such communication will not be necessary to cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.
- (6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the flring of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) Byday the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry :-

- (a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
- (b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

- (8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.
- (9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats, communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer (except to avoid accident).

Notice is hereby given that, under the Defence of the Realm (Consolidation) Regulations, 1914, the following Regulations have been made by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and are now in force.

H. M. Vessels are constantly engaged, both singly and in pairs, in sweeping operations off the coasts of the United Kingdom, and whilst so engaged they are hampered to a very considerable extent in their manceuving powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which they are engaged, these vessels will show the signals hereinafter mentioned, and for the public safety all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying these signals and not approach them inside the distances mentioned herein, specially remembering that it is dangerous to pass inside these distances or between the vessels of a pair, us the vessels may have mines trailing in their sweeps, and also on account of the danger caused to traffic if mine-sweepers have to slip their sweeps to get out of the way of vessels.

1. SIGNALS THAT WILL BE SHOWN BY DAY.

(a) By vessels working singly :—

A black ball at the foremast head, and a similar ball at each yardarm or where they can best be seen.

Vessels showing this signal are not to be approached nearer than 300 yards.

(b) By vessels working in pairs :-

A black ball at the foremast head, and a similar ball at the yardarm or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous to pass.

Vessels are not to pass within a distance of 400 yards astern of a single pair of sweepers, or when more than one pair are working in company within a distance of 400 yards astern of rear pair. They are on no account to attempt to pass between pairs working in company.

2. SIGNALS THAT WILL BE SHOWN BY NIGHT.

As for day, except that all round green lights will be used in place of the black balls.

Lindi River-Tidal information, Prohibited anchorage, Berthe and Beacons established.

No. 305 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the Director of the Royal Indian Marine, Bombay, in Notice to Mariners (No. 66M, of 1919), are republished :-

Position.-Lindi observation pillar.

Lat. 9° 59′ 26″ S., long. 39° 43′ 38″ E.

(i) Tides.—Soundings taken by Severn during the Spring Tides of 4th and 5th July 1917 show that if Lindi "A" red outer fairway pillar buoy is passed close on the starboard hand and the beacons brought into transit but not opened, so that the lower beacon is to the southward of the upper beacon, least; water (L. W. O. S.) may be expected as 17 feet. The following data have been derived from tidal observations at

Lindi during October and November 1917:-

... III h. 45 m. M.T.R. ... 12 feet. H. W. F. & C. Mean Spring Range Mean Neap Range ... 41 feet. 8 inches. Datum on tide pole ... 14 ft. 2 inches on tide pole. Highest tide Zero. Lowest tide

Spring Tides-The highest Spring Tide occurs about 14 days after-fall and new moon. The tides appear to be regular and take 3 hours to rise and 6 hours to fall, obtaining their height and commencing to fall almost immediately. The A.M. tide is usually the highest. Mean Tides.—At Neans the tides are irregular and a range of only 2 feet 8 inches has been observed: On this occasion the tide never fell below 5 feet 9 inches on the tide pole and only rose to 8 feet 5 inches, this height being reached about 2 hours before the time for H. W. The tides seldom remain stationary at H. W. (with the above exception) but commence to fall almost immediately, but at L. W. they often remain stationary for 2 hours before commencing to rise.

The following depths may be expected on the Bar at High and Low water :-

Springs. H. W. 27 ft. L. W. 15 ft. Neaps. 231 ft. 19 ft

No. 307 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the Director of the Royal Indian Marine, Bombay, in Notice to Mariners (No. 68M. of 1919), are republished:—

(a) Position of Msimbati observation spot.— Lat. 10° 19′ 22″ S., long. 40° 23′ 34″ E.

Details—A white triangular beacon has been erected in the position of the observation spot on Ras Msimbati.

(b) Position—At a distance of about 11 cables 32° (N. 38° E. Mag.) from position (a).

Details-A white triangular beacon has been erected in the above position.

Remarks—These beacons cannot be mistaken for each other, as Observation Spot beacon stands out conspicuously from Ras Msimbati.

Note-The high water line of Msimbati and Islands of Manu-Hawanja and Mongo appear to be incorrectly charted.

(2) Directions for Entering Harbour. -

When entering the harbour, a line of bearing of Ras Msimbati Beacon 198° (S. 24° W. Mag.), although the correct one to enter and leave by, seems to lead too close to shoats off Ras Ruvera or at least to discoloured water.

It is thought therefore that Ras Msimbati may have grown out and it would seem advisable for ships entering or leaving this harbour to do so at L, W,, or when the Sun is high in altitude. The shoals then are easily visible and ships can keep to the deep blue water.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 311 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1520 of 1919), are republished :--

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.-No. 1 of 1919 (This office No. 53 of 1919) hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels

mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) if entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must approach the port with the greatest caution and implicitly obey all orders or signals given them by the Examination vessel or signal station.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the ocal port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the port. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph' (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry :-

- (a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
- (b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the borizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats, communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer (except to avoid accident).

(10) In case of fog, Musters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the port should be approached with caution.

(II)

The order probibiting merchant vessels from making use of private signals when approaching parts is no longer in force.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

PART IV.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

Notice is hereby given that, under the Defence of the Realm (Consolidation) Regulations, 1914, the following Regulations have been made by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and are now in force.

H. M. Vessels are constantly engaged, both singly and in pairs, in sweeping operations off the coasts of the United Kingdom, and whilst so engaged they are hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuv-ring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which they are engaged, these vessels will show the signals hereinafter mentioned, and for the public safety all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying these signals and not approach them inside the distances mentioned herein, specially remembering that it is dangerous to pass inside these distances or between the vessels of a pair, as the vessels may have mines trailing in their sweeps, and also on account of the danger caused to traffic if mine-sweepers have to slip their sweeps to get out of the way of vessels.

1. Signals that will be Shown by Day.

(a) By vessels working singly :-

A black ball at the foremast head, and a similar ball at each yardarm or where they can best be seen.

Vessels showing this signal are not to be approached nearer than 300 yards.

(b) By vessels working in pairs :-

A black ball at the foremast head, and a similar ball at the yardarm or where it can best be seen, on that side on, which it is dangerous to pass.

Vessels are not to pass within a distance of 400 yards astern of a single pair of sweepers, or when more than one pair are working in company within a distance of 400 yards astern of rear pair. They are on no account to attempt to pass between pairs working in company.

2. Signals that will be Shown by Night.

As for day, except that all round green lights will be used in place of the black balls.

CAUTION.

Part IV of this Admiralty Notice to Mariners is issued under the provisions of the Defence of the Realm (Consolidation) Regulations, 1914, and failure to comply strictly with the directions contained in it will constitute an offence against those Regulations.

Any person found guilty of such an offence is liable to severe penalties, both of imprisonment, and fine.

Any person aiding or abetting the commission of such an offence is himself guilty of an offence against the Regulations.

Attention is also drawn to the fact that any infringement of the directions contained in Part IV of this Admiralty Notice to Mariners is liable to result is the detention of the ship or vessel.

Position.—Lindi observation pillar.

Lat. 9° 59′ 26″ S., long. 39° 48′ 88″ E.

(i) Tides.—Soundings taken by Severn during the Soring Tides of 4th and 5th July 1917 show that if Lindi "A" red outer fairway pillar buoy is passed close on the starboard hand and the beacons brought into transit but not opened, so that the lower beacon is to the southward of the upper beacon, least water (L. W. O. S.) may be expected as 17 feet.

The following data have been derived from tidal observations at Lindi during October and November 1917:—

H. W. F. & C. Mean Spring Range Mean Neap Range

... III h. 45 m. M.T.R. ... 12 feet. ... 41 feet.

Datum on tide pele Highest tide

8 inches. 14 ft. 2 inches on tide pole.

... Zero. Lowest tide

Spring Tides—The highest Spring Tide occurs about 1; days after full and new moon. The tides appear to be regular and take 3 hours to rise and 6 hours to fall, obtaining their height and commencing to fall almost immediately. The A.M. tide is usually the highest.

Neap Tides.—At Neaps the tides are irregular and a range of only 2 feet 8 inches has been observed: On this occasion the tide 2 feet 8 inches has been observed: On this occasion the tide never fell below 5 feet 9 inches on the tide pole and only rose to 8 feet 5 inches, this height being reached about 2 hours before the time for H. W. The tides seldom remain stationary at H. W. (with the above exception) but commence to fall almost immediately, but at L. W. they often remain stationary for 2 hours before commencing to rise.

The following depths may be expected on the Bar at High and Low water :-

Neaps. Springs. 231 ft. H. W. 27 ft. L. W. 15 ft. ... 19 ft.

No. 307 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the Director of the Royal Indian Marine, Bombay, in Notice to Mariners (No. 68M. of 1919), are republished:—

(a) Position of Msimbati observation spot.

Lat. 10° 19' 22" S., long. 40° 23' 34" E.

Details-A white triangular beacon has been erected in the position of the observation spot on Ras Msimbati.

(b) Position—At a distance of about 11 cables 32° (N. 38° E. Mag.) from position (a).

Details-A white triangular beacon has been erected in the above position.

Remarks—These beacons cannot be mistaken for each other, as Observation Spot heacon stands out conspicuously from Ras Msimbati.

Note-The high water line of Maimbati and Islands of Mana Hawanja and Mongo appear to be incorrectly charted.

(2) Directions for Entering Harbour .--

When entering the harbour, a line of bearing of Ras Msimbati Beacon 198° (S. 24° W. Mag.), although the correct one to enter and leave by, seems to lead too close to shoals off Ras Ruvura or at least to discoloured water.

It is thought therefore that Ras Msimbati may have grown out and it would seem advisable for ships entering or leaving this harbour to do so at L. W., or when the Sun is high in altitude. The shoals then are easily visible and ships can keep to the deep blue water.

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.-No. 1 of 1919 (This office No. 53 of 1919) hereby cancelled,

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels

mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) if entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (6), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must approach the port with the greatest caution and implicitly obey all probas or signals given them by the Examination vessel or signal station.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the port. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gan or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps; two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white, and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

- (a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
- (b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing aignal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the pignal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats, communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer (except to avoid accident).

The order prohibiting merchant vessels from making use of private signals when approaching ports is no longer in force.

.(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE THE FIFTH, BY THE GRACE OF GOD OF THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND AND OF THE BRITISH DOMINIONS BEYOND THE SEAS, KING, DEFENDER OF THE FAITH, EMPEROR OF INDIA. TO MY VICEROY AND GOVERNOR-GENERAL, TO THE PRINCES OF INDIAN STATES AND TO ALL MY SUBJECTS IN INDIA OF WHATSOEVER RACE OR CREED, GREETING.

I. Another epoch has been reached to-day in the Councils of India. I have given my Royal assent to an Act which will take its place among the great historic measures passed by the Parliament of this Realm for the better government of India and the greater contentment of her people. The Acts of seventeen hundred and seventy-three and seventeen hundred and eighty-four were designed to establish a regular system of administration and justice under the Honourable East India Company. The Act of eighteen hundred and thirty-three opened the door for Indians to public office and employment. The Act of eighteen hundred and fifty-eight transferred the administration from the Company to the Crown and laid the foundations of public life which exist in India to-day. The Act of eighteen hundred and sixty-one sowed the seed of representative institutions and the seed was quickened into life by the Act of nineteen hundred and nine. The Act which has now become law entrusts elected representatives of the people with a definite share in Government and points the way to full representative Government hereafter. If, as I confidently hope, the policy which this Act inaugurates should achieve its purpose, the results will be momentous in the story of human progress; and it is timely and fitting that I should invite you to-day to consider the past and to join me in my hopes of the future.

- Ever since the welfare of India was confided to us, it has been held as a sacred trust by our Royal House and Line. In eighteen hundred and fifty-eight Queen Victoria of revered memory solemnly declared herself bound to her Indian subjects by the same obligations of duty as to all her other subjects; and she assured them religious freedom and the equal and impartial protection of law. In his message to the Indian people in nineteen hundred and three my dear father King Edward the Seventh announced his determination to maintain unimpaired the same principles of humane. and equitable administration. Again, in his proclamation of nineteen hundred and eight, he renewed the assurances which had been given fifty years before and surveyed the progress which they had inspired. On my accession to the throne in nineteen hundred and ten I sent a message to the Princes and peoples of India acknowledging their loyalty and homage and promising that the prosperity and happiness of India should always be to me of the highest interest and concern. In the following year I visited India with the Queen-Empress and testified my sympathy for her people and my desire for their well-being.
- and my predecessors have been animated, the Parliament and the people of this Realm and my officers in India have been equally zealous for the moral and material advancement of India. We have endeavoured to give to her people the many blessings which Providence has bestowed upon ourselves. But there is one gift which yet remains and without which the progress of a country cannot be consummated: the right of her people to direct her affairs and safeguard her interests. The defence of India against foreign aggression is a duty of common Imperial interest and pride. The control of her domestic concerns is a burden which India may legitimately aspire to taking upon her own shoulders. The burden is too heavy to be borne in full until time and experience have brought the necessary strength; but opportunity will now be given for experience to grow and for responsibility to increase with the capacity for its fulfilment.
- IV. I have watched with understanding and sympathy the growing desire of my Indian people for representative institutions. Starting from small beginnings this ambition has steadily strengthened its hold upon the intelligence of the country. It has pursued its course along constitutional channels with sincerity and courage. It has survived the discredit which at times and in places lawless men sought to cast upon it by acts of violence committed under the guise of patriotism. It has been stirred to more vigorous life by the ideals for which the British Commonwealth fought in the Great War and it claims support in the part which India has taken in our common struggles, anxieties and victories. In truth the desire after political responsibility has its source at the roots of the British connection with India.

It has sprung inevitably from the deeper and wider studies of human thought and history, which that connection has opened to the Indian people. Without it the work of the British in India would have been incomplete. It was therefore with a wise judgment that the beginnings of representative institutions were laid many years ago. This scope has been extended stage by stage until there now lies before us a definite step on the road to responsible Government.

- V. With the same sympathy and with redoubled interest I shall watch the progress along this road. The path will not be easy and in marching towards the goal there will be need of perseverance and of mutual forbearance between all sections and races of my people in India. I am confident that those high qualities will be forthcoming. I rely on the new popular assemblies to interpret wisely the wishes of those whom they represent and not to forget the interests of the masses who cannot yet be admitted to the franchise. I rely on the leaders of the people, the Ministers of the future, to face responsibility and endure to sacrifice much for the common interest of the State, remembering that true patriotism transcends party and communal boundaries; and while retaining the confidence of the legislatures, to co-operate with my officers for the common good in sinking unessential differences and in maintaining the essential standards of a just and generous Government. Equally do I rely on my officers to respect their new colleagues and to work with them in harmony and kindliness; to assist the people and their representatives in an orderly advance towards free institutions; and to find in these new tasks a fresh opportunity to fulfil as in the past their highest purpose of faithful service to my people.
- VI. It is my earnest desire at this time that so far as possible any trace of bitterness between my people and those who are responsible for my Government should be obliterated. Let those who in their eagerness for political progress have broken the law in the past respect it in future. Let it become possible for those who are charged with the maintenance of peaceful and orderly Government to forget extravagances they have had to curb. A new era is opening. Let it begin with a common determination among my people and my officers to work together for a common purpose. I therefore direct my Viceroy to exercise in my name and on my behalf my Royal clemency to political offenders in the fullest measure which in his judgment is compatible with public safety. I desire him to extend it on this condition to persons who for offences against the State or under any special or emergency legislation are suffering from imprisonment or restrictions upon their liberty. I trust that this leniency will be justified by the future conduct of those whom it benefits and that all my subjects will so demean themselves as to render it unnecessary to enforce the laws for such offences hereafter.
- VII. Simultaneously with the new constitution in British India, I have gladly assented to the establishment of a Chamber of Princes. I trust that its counsels may be fruitful of lasting good to the Princes and States themselves, may advance the interests which are common to their territories and British India, and may be to the advantage of the Empire as a whole. I take the occasion again to assure the Princes of India of my determination ever to maintain unimpaired their privileges, rights and-dignities.

December the twenty-third, nineteen hundred and nineteen.
